

POINTS OF INTEREST

a. sec. A - Meriwether Lewis Clark, Jr.

Established the Louisville Jockey Club on Churchill land and created the Kentucky Derby in 1875.

b. sec. B - Wilder Monument

Designed by Robert E. Launitz, “The father of monumental art in America,” and was erected in memory of Minnie, the Wilder’s only child, who died at the age of seven.

c. section B - James Guthrie

Distinguished political, business and education leader. Served as U.S. Senator, President of University of Louisville, and President of L&N Railroad.

d. section C - Lithgow Monument

Features marble sculpture of the Angel Gabriel and four figures representing Faith, Hope, Mercy and Religion.

e. Section I - David Ross

Cave Hill’s first superintendant whose widow placed a triple sided monument with a club-moss carving which was the badge of the Ross clan, and a special favorite of David Ross.

f. Section C - Satterwhite Memorial Temple

Preston Pope Satterwhite gave many antiques to the J. B. Speed Art Museum. In 1928, erected “Temple of Love” which includes a marble sculpture of a woman, as a memorial to his departed wife, Florence Brokaw Martin Satterwhite.

g. Sections L & M - National Cemetery

Burial site for over 5,500 soldiers killed in the Civil War and other American wars.

h. Section E - Tingley Memorial Fountain

Erected in 1922 as a public memorial to William and George H. Tingley, who were brothers and individually achieved success as a wagon maker and as superintendent of the Louisville school system.

i. Section G - Patty Hill

A kindergarten teacher who wrote the “Happy Birthday” song.

j. Section H - Rustic Shelter House

Built in 1892 as a Watchman’s Shelter House. Covered in oak bark in St. Andrews cross pattern.

k. Section G - Douglass Lot

The family sold 49 acres to the cemetery in 1863 with agreement that the fence around the family lot would remain.

l. Section N - Tiffany Vase

Monument designed by Tiffany’s of New York.

m. Section F - Jim Porter

Was the Kentucky Giant at 7’8” tall. Drove an omnibus and ran the Big Gun Tavern in Shippingport.

POINTS OF INTEREST - continued

n. Section P - George Rogers Clark

“Founder of Louisville” and “Washington of the West” who was originally buried in the family cemetery at Locust Grove the home of his sister Jucy Clark Croghan.

o. Section P - Irvin Mausoleum

One of the few gothic revival designs attributed to the prominent Louisville architect, Henry Whitestone.

p. Section 5 - Elks Rest Lot

Purchased by the Elks as a burial site for members and features a life size bronze elk.

q. Section 5 - Nicola Marschall

Creator of the Confederate uniform and the flag of the Confederacy. Portrait painter of Jefferson Davis and Abraham Lincoln.

r. Section 5 - Thompson Family Tree

Symbolic monument in the form of a tree with branches removed and individual headstones resembling logs, for Edwin Vivian Thompson, landscape gardener and farmer.

s. Section 13 - Caldwell Sister

Family contributed money to build Sts. Mary & Elizabeth Hospital in 1872 in memory of their mother Mary Elizabeth Breckinridge Caldwell. Sisters married European royalty.

t. Section 26 - J. Graham Brown

Prominent Louisville businessman and philanthropist. Inventor of the Hot Brown Sandwich.

u. Section 33 - Colonel Harland Sanders

Founder of Kentucky Fried Chicken empire and philanthropist to sick children. Had his monument, which includes a bronze bust likeness sculpted by his daughter Margaret, designed to suggest the KFC headquarters building.

v. Section 33 - Gheens Mausoleum

Features a likeness of Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper painted on glass in rear window.

w. Section A - Pete “The Gladiator” Browning

A professional baseball player and one of the best right-handed hitters and fighters ever. Used John Hillerich's bats to create the Louisville Slugger.

x. Section P - Henry Watterson

Editor of The Journal newspaper; later changed to The Courier-Journal. His name made famous Louisville's expressway.

y. Section 13 - Louis Seelbach

A bellboy at the Galt House, became an entrepreneur and developed the beautiful Seelbach Hotel.

z. Section 1 - Sebastian Zorn

President of the Louisville Water Company. Created the filtration system and Crescent Hill swimming pool.